

“getting kids into the outdoors”

A pond stomping, trail stumbling artist, author, and illustrator in hiking boots, Lori rehabilitates kids and releases them into the wild outdoors by encouraging them to read, write, and draw in nature to find their story.

Lori's books will have kids reading, writing, and drawing as their adventure begins outdoors to find their story.

About Lori and Bear Track Press books !

“Lori Taylor’s comically illustrated books, spattered with facts and fun activities, sow an early love for nature and all its mystery and wonder. These books inspire creativity and will help cultivate the scientists of tomorrow!”

*Lisa Rivard, Ph.D., Language Arts Consultant, Macomb Intermediate School District,
MRA President, 2015*

BEAR TRACK PRESS
Bitely, MI

www.loritaylorart.com

HOLLY WILD: Bamboozled on Beaver Island (Book 1)

Young GeEK (Geo-Explorer Kid) Holly Wild travels with best friends, twins, Sierra and Tierra Hills to Beaver Island for the Museum Week celebration. From the moment Holly steps off the boat onto this unhurried, unspoiled island, her troubles begin, but when she discovers a mysterious, creepy thing washed ashore she finds that it may hold the key to the island's terror and troubles!

ISBN 978.1.4507.9194.6
 Bear Track Press, 2011
 162 pgs., Jr. Fiction (ages 7-12)

Wholesale $7.79
Retail $12.99

HOLLY WILD: Let Sleeping Bear Dunes Lie (Book 2)

Holly's journey continues to Sleeping Bear Dunes National Lakeshore for a little R&R, but her dreams are haunted by bears—her “fearest of fears”. And not just any bears—it's the legendary dune mother bear, Mishe Makwa, and her cubs! Holly and her team meet up with young local beach bum, Bernie, who helps them investigate the park's recent water problem and to put an end to her “nightbear” dreams—fast!

ISBN 978.0.615.65973.2
 Bear Track Press, 2012
 186 pgs., Jr. Fiction (ages 7-12)

Wholesale $7.79
Retail $12.99

ie,” I said, the peanut butter bread glue ball stuck to mouth. I jotted down hat Kenny ate in I gulped some ie

An illustrated and interactive chapter book series!

Kenny and I ate lunch early today so I could go see Tierra and Sierra. They got back from their vacation last night and Mom said I had to wait until noon to go over. Something about going over too early would be rude. Anyway, the clock on the wall seemed like it was stuck on 11:50 for forever, so I climbed on a chair to check the batteries. That's when Gram came clomping into the house, yelling. “Eureka! Fabulous news!” She was hollering and waving a letter over her head like a flag.

“Mother Wild!” groaned Mom, emerging from the basement with a load of wet laundry. “Remember to wipe your feet. I just mopped!”

“Sorry, dear,” Gram said, wiping her hiking boots on the carpet. Gram's like me—we're good at forgetting.

“What's your news, Gram?” I asked, my eagle eye scanning the

The HOLLY WILD series was selected as a 2015 “Great Lakes, Great Reads” by MLive and the Historical Society of Michigan.

Characters that do science...

HOLLY WILD: Packing for the Porkies! (Book 3)

Holly and her Team, Tierra & Sierra, are headed to Michigan's Yooperland wilderness, the Porcupine Mountains! Holly's attempt to establish communication with the Yoopers—folks from the U.P.—and experience true wilderness are put on hold as she finds herself trying to survive in a rustic camp in the land of big trees, big water, Bunyan and Bigfoot. But when a "Porkies" artist comes up missing—Holly must face the wilderness on her own.

ISBN 978.0.615.87321.3
 Bear Track Press (2013)
 196 pgs., Jr. Fiction (ages 7 - 12)

Wholesale $7.79
Retail $12.99

HOLLY WILD: Questpedition for da Yooper Stone! (Book 4)

Holly and her Team, T & Sie, head home from their summer vacation when they discover secrets, legends, and a mysterious story teller are following them across Michigan's eastern U. P. But when the Team suddenly finds that 5th grade = miserable middle-school, Holly embarks on a quest for a good luck stone. Holly is one Geo-explorer Kid who is headed for rocky times as time is running out! Will she find the lucky Yooper Stone in one week?

ISBN 978.0.692.36414.7
 Bear Track Press (2015)
 177 pgs., Jr. Fiction (ages 7 - 12)

Wholesale $7.79
Retail $12.99

HOLLY AND MARTIN'S BRUSH SHELTER

Find long, sturdy BRANCHES for support frame and lean them against a tree. Forked ones hold best.

Find fallen BRUSH found on the ground: ferns, leaves, sticks, pine boughs and forked branches as filler.

Leaning or fallen trees make a good base!

outdoor activities...

and make history fun!

HOLLY WILD: The Young GeEK's Guide to Getting Outside!

Ten-year old Holly and pals take young cousins on an alphabet adventure into the WILD BACKYARD! This rhyming read-aloud, perfect for napttime or playtime, is for young Geo-Explorers ages 2—6! Packed with fun body smart prompts, Backyard BINGO Scavenger Hunt, and more, this HOLLY WILD picture book will be sure to get lil GeEKs outside and INTO the dirt.

Bear Track Press (2015)
 ISBN 978-0-692-47848-6
 Hardcover 9 x 11", 36 pgs.
 (ages 2-6) FULL COLOR, printed in USA

Wholesale $10.80
Retail $18.00

An alphabet adventure...

with interactive activities...

and outdoor sensory fun...

for kids ages 2-6 years!

Lissy-Lost!

Written & Illustrated by Lori Taylor

For a nine year-old, Lissy has big trouble. Lissy's family heads to the north woods after the death of her grandmother. But as they head home, Lissy's journey begins! Lost in the dark wood, she loses her shadow, is chased by a wild cat, and is found by a witch! What could possibly happen next? How will Lissy get her shadow back and return home?

ISBN 1-59286-964-5

Bear Track Press, 2011

118 pgs. with 27 b/w illustrations. Junior Fiction for ages 7-12

Magic/Adventure

Wholesale $6.00

Retail $10.00

A magical tale of discovery and friendship!

www.loritaylorart.com

Bear Track Press
Bitely, MI
ph. (734)223-8612

