ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Lori Taylor is a Michigan artist and children’s author/illustrator living in Davison, MI. She was artist-in-residence for Michigan’s State and National Parks, Literacy Legacy Fund of Michigan and worked as an elementary Media Center ParaPro for Davison Schools. Lori has made countless observations in the wild and taken countless field notes, primary sources for her books. She gets kids reading, writing, and drawing to record observations to share with others!

Lori’s HOLLY WILD chapter books packed with Michigan flora/fauna, history and legend, connect kids to place and were selected by the Michigan History Magazine’s “Great Lakes, Great Reads.” Her books have been used by Michigan schools to encourage environmental awareness while promoting literacy. Lori shares creative games, free ebooks, zines, and teacher guides on her website.

LORI'S PROGRAMS

Kids will take away skills in story hunting and learn to become citizen scientists as they record their own field notes. Lori shares her stories and gets kids excited to be a wild investigator of the outdoors!

- Wild Woodland Walk! (K - 2nd grades) Students take a seasonal, sensory Woodland Walk as Lori reads her Young Geek’s Guide to Getting Outside book to keep their senses and sense of nature wonder alive. Program length: 40 minutes.
- Whopper of Whoopee Lake (K - 2nd grades) Students put on their fishing caps to follow Lori on her journey as she reads her book, The Whopper of Whoopee Lake, then draw a turtle and its habitat. Program length: 40 minutes.
- Author Assembly 3 - 5th grades Students take a virtual hike, but first fold and create field note zines to record observations, primary resources for writing. Young citizen scientists will write, draw, and learn about Michigan’s wildlife and their habitat. Program length: 45 minutes

PROGRAM PRICING
